Consignments Come in from Far and Near

My Spencer, a bay gelding consigned by Forrest Webb of London, brought the top price—$6,800—at the first annual winter speed sale, held Wednesday before some 2,000 persons at the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

Dr. Roy A. H. Knisely of Toledo bought the pacer, which was sired by Prince Spencer. He plans to ship it to California, where it will be trained in Eddie Cobb's stable.

The sale, described by the experts as a "good one," attracted horse buyers from at least a half dozen states in this part of the country.

The Smith & Moon stable of Washington C. H. was the biggest seller. Its four horses brought a total of $8,900.

And one of the Washington C. H. horses, Ohio Boy, sired by Ohio Abbe, brought the second highest amount—$2,800—when it was exhibited in the sales ring in one (Please turn to Page Two)

Mrs. W. E. Roberts of 917 Yeoman Street, is firmly convinced that the Weather Man is rushing the season, or that the "Paint Valley Prophet," who predicted "ragged weather" in December, January and February, got his wires crossed.

Anyway the spring-like weather has started. Snapdragons and hyacinths budding, and even a jonquil putting forth a bud on her premises.

Others have reported hyacinths, tulips and daffodils are several inches above ground, or 30 to 40 days ahead of the season.

The first funeral service at which Rev. Harold J. Braden was called on to assist since coming to Washington C. H. was for an old friend and former parishoner at Pottsville, Pa.

It was a strange coincidence and chain of unusual circumstances that united them—with one in death.

Rev. Braden, who preached his first sermon as the new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here last Sunday, read in the Record-Herald that George Santee had died at his son's home in Wilmette, Ill., and that he was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ralph Penn. Curious, but still wondering whether it was only a similarity of names, Rev. Braden called Mrs. Penn.

To his surprise, he learned that George Santee was his old friend and parishoner at Pottsville.

Hike in Steel Price 'Unwarranted', Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—The CIO steelworkers union said today recent steel price increases were caused by an industry "publicly be hanged attitude" and not by higher labor costs.

Some top steel executives said yesterday that even with last month's $4 a ton general increase, prices are too low for the future health of the industry. But the union said the boost was "unwarranted" and "indefensible."

Otis Brubaker of Pittsburgh, research director and spokesman for the union that claims 1,000,000 members, said the price rise was "far in excess of any demonstrable cost increases."

Brubaker's statement—67 statistic-laden pages—was prepared for delivery before the Senate-House economic committee, which has been looking into the price boosts.

Until today, the committee had heard only from the heads of the steel companies. Without exception they cited higher costs, especially the new pension and insurance programs the steelworkers got after their strike last fall.

These programs are to be financed entirely by the steel companies.

Four of these firms—Inland Steel, National Steel, Jones and Laughlin and Allegheny Ludlum—filed statements with the Senate group expressing the view that prices for their products still are not high enough.

President Clarence B. Randall of Inland Steel commented that Congress "obviously cannot on one hand ask us to risk new capital (for expansion) and on the other deny us the earnings by which such capital can be attracted."

Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corp., added that "steel profits have been moderate."

But Brubaker insisted that the industry is seeking "outrageously higher profits." He said that the pension and insurance programs could have been handled without any increase in prices, and declared:

"We are tired of being a public whipping boy for this industry."

Parking Limits Placed on Three Crowded Streets

Three new parking ordinances, which were first read at a previous meeting, were passed by the city council Wednesday night.

One ordinance prohibits parking "on the west side of Dayton Avenue, from the B. and O. railroad tracks south, for a distance of 90 feet."

Parking is prohibited by another ordinance "on the east side of Delaware Street, from the intersection of Columbus Avenue and Delaware Street to the south side of the intersection of Delaware and Market Streets."

The third ordinance passed prohibits parking "of vehicles other than one-half ton trucks or automobiles on the west side of Delaware Street, from the intersection of Columbus Avenue and Delaware Street to the south side of the intersection of Delaware and Market Streets."

Violations of these ordinances carry a $5 fine.

The restrictions go into effect immediately because they carried emergency clauses.

Cream Puffs Held To Blame

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26—(AP)—The city health commissioner today linked food poisoning of 82 persons in nine central Ohio cities with spoiled cream puffs sold by a Columbus bakery.

Dr. Ollie M. Goodlow said tests disclosed definite food poisoning bacteria. The puffs were distributed from Columbus Tuesday. The commissioner said unseasonably warm weather probably caused the spoilage.

The commissioner reported 39 cases of food poisoning in Columbus. He said a check of health officials in other cities where puffs were sold disclosed these cases: Marion, 7; Lima, 8; Newark, 9; Mt. Vernon, 2; Springfield, 4; Zanesville, 6; Mansfield, 4; and Granville, 3.

Dr. Goodlow has asked all Columbus bakeries to cease selling cream-filled pastries until further notice. A health department ordinance here prohibits such sales from May 15 to Oct. 1.

Reds Ease Blockade On American Trucks

HELMSTEDT, Germany, Jan. 26—(AP)—An American army truck convoy crossed the Soviet zone frontier without difficulty early today. But nearly 400 German trucks were caught in the five-day Russian "baby blockade" on the Berlin autobahn traffic.

Soviet guards at Helmstedt quickly cleared some 40 American vehicles loaded with supplies for the Berlin military post. The U. S. Army instituted a once-a-week convoy to Berlin last summer to test periodically Russia's good faith in ending the Berlin blockade.

The Soviet slow-down was more vigorous against German traffic today than any time since it began without warning last Sunday.

Two hundred German trucks from Western Germany were backed up for three miles on one side of the Soviet checkpoint at Helmstedt.

On the other side nearly 200 trucks from Berlin, cleared by the Russians on their eastward trip, were forced to wait for permission to leave the Soviet zone.

Jet Fighter Plane Developed by U. S.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26—(AP)—North America Aviation, Inc., has developed a jet fighter plane designed to penetrate deeply into enemy territory on high-speed missions.

The plane is called the YF-93A. After a 40-minute flight, a test pilot remarked:

"A pilot could have been a one man air force with the YF-93A in the southwest Pacific air battles."

George Welch, an air combat veteran and North American pilot, took the plane on its first test flight at Edwards Air Force Base, Muroc, Calif.

The company, in reporting development of the plane yesterday, said it is designed to fly operationally at speeds close to sound, has a swept back wing and is powered by a Pratt and Whitney J-48 turbo-jet engine.

Menace of Spies Is Greater Now Than During War

Bigger FBI Force Asked—Red Trials Political Thunder

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—The FBI says the job of protecting the country from spies is greater now than at the peak of World War II.

Asking for an enlargement of his force, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a Congressional hearing that the end of the war served only to balloon the work of his agents in protecting the nation's internal security.

Hoover's report was contained in House appropriations committee hearings made public today.

In the same hearing, Immigration Inspector Watson B. Miller said there are approximately 3,000, 000 aliens in the United States—some 3,500 of them deportable and free under court bond, but whom no other nation will accept.

Hoover said internal security problems are growing steadily, with the FBI's work load at a record high, and declared:

"The need, I think, is paramount to control the dangers that are inherent in Communism and the subversive activities of foreign-inspired espionage groups that are operating in this country."

"The Communist party, as you (Please turn to Page Two)

Wallace Denies Connections with Uranium Shipment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said today he had "absolutely nothing to do with" wartime uranium shipments to Russia.

Wallace, wartime vice president, testified before the House un-American activities committee. He asked to be heard after Radio Commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., said in a broadcast last month that Wallace helped the Russians get supplies of atomic materials. Uranium is used in making the A-bomb.

In a statement, Wallace told the committee he did not even know the Russians were asking licenses for the shipments. He added:

"I did know that lend-lease recommended, after consulting with the Manhattan district, that they be issued, and the agency which I headed, the Bureau of Economic Warfare, had no discretionary authority with respect to them."

Baby Sitters Bonded Now

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 26—(AP)—Bonded baby sitters? Why not? Those are the questions of Paul P. Connelley, manager of the St. Louis office of the Missouri employment service.

It was Connelley who announced recently that a state government was going into the baby sitting business for the first time. He has 200 sitters at work now.

And he says they have received high praise from the clients they have served, at the rate of between 50 and 75 cents an hour. He explained the bond feature is to be included to set at rest the fears of parents who want to avail themselves of the baby-sitter supply service, but who are "understandably reluctant" about bringing total strangers into their homes.

Payrolls in Ohio Make Slight Gain

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26—(AP)—Ohio payrolls and employment gained one per cent in November—but man hours worked and average weekly earnings showed fractional declines, the Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research announced today.

The bureau based its monthly report on data from 5,562 firms in the state. It was issued in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Labor statistics.

The report showed average weekly earnings dropped from $54.89 in October to $54.75 in November. The latter figure was two per cent below the level for the same month of 1948.

Brink's Co. Loot Trucked Away Detectives Convinced After Reconstructing Big Robbery

BOSTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—Police today considered the possibility that a truck wheeled right into Brink's garage to cart away the $1,500,000 seized by eight desperadoes in a criminal-history raid ten days ago.

Two Enter Race For Engineer

GOP Nomination Sought at Primary

Two men here have thrown their hats into the ring for the position of Fayette County engineer.

Charles A. Ferguson and C. P. Wagner, both Republicans, started circulating petitions Wednesday to run in the May 2 primary for the unexpired term of Robert E. Willis, who died last February.

Wagner is a newcomer to the field of politics in Fayette County. He has recently been engaged in farm drainage service work in this county. He started circulating petitions at the request of numerous farmer friends in the county, he said.

Ferguson was appointed as county engineer November 28 by the Board of Fayette County Commissioners following the resignation of E. N. Leonard to accept a position with the city of Piqua.

Ferguson, who had wide engineering experience, came here from Marietta, where he was engaged as a sales engineer for the Blue Rock, Inc.

Wagner came here after service with the navy during World War II. A graduate in civil engineering from Akron University in 1923, he has had considerable experience with railroad operation and highway engineering.

He worked for four years as a junior engineer with the highway department of Akron, following his graduation.

For several years he was connected with engineering and operations for various railroads in the United States. For four years he was chief deputy engineer in Huron County and an assistant engineer for about a year with the state highway department. He was also connected with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He served in the armed forces both in World War I and World War II. During the past war, he was a lieutenant commander, with service at the Naval Proving Ground at Dahlgren, Va.

Ferguson was associated for some 23 years with the state highway department. He was a resident state highway engineer in Noble County and also the county engineer there. For a number of years, he was a division engineer with the state highway department in Div. 10.

During World War I, Ferguson served with the 308th regiment and was a corps engineer with the First Army.

Pilots Warned Against Using Anti-Cold Pills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration warned pilots today to be careful in using any of the anti-histaminic drugs for treatments of colds when planning to fly.

The CAA said pilots should be certain the drugs do not cause drowsiness or dizziness or other reactions which might affect their ability to fly.

Bill Hart Claims Ranch Won From His Father in Poker Game

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26—(AP)—Bill Hart, Jr., says that at the age of 12 he won a $250,000 ranch from his father in a poker game.

"It was in 1934 when I was 12 and dad set out to teach me to play draw poker," he testified yesterday in his suit to share in the million dollar estate of his father, the cowboy actor.

"He explained the rules then dealt the cards and asked what I wanted to draw."

Frank G. Wilson—said last night they are convinced the bandits tossed their loot into the truck from Brink's receiving and dispatching office.

How could this happen with a Brink's garageman on duty at the time?

Their answer is that the garage attendant retired to a cubby hole to eat his lunch at about the time of the robbery. In that cubicle he would not have observed the truck at the platform, they said.

How could a truck enter without being observed?

They said the sprawling garage in which the robbery occurred houses vehicles other than Brink's trucks. The loot-carrier could have been parked in the garage all day, they explained.

The detectives pointed out that the bandits took approximately 1,200 pounds when they scooped 17 money bags into laundry kits—a load too heavy to be carried far by eight men.

These facts, they related, were established in a precise reenactment of the crime yesterday.

Monahan and Wilson also expressed doubt that the gunmen were in the establishment only 18 minutes.

Their investigation indicated, they said, that it would have taken close to 40 minutes to get through six locked doors to the cashier's office, disarm, truss and gag five employees, eject bullets from company-racked guns, scoop the contents of the money containers into laundry bags, and haul the loot out of the building.

Slot Machines Hit by FBI

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover favors the idea of federal curbs on slot machines as a check on the underworld gambling racket.

There is "considerable merit" to proposals for outlawing, interstate shipment of one-arm bandits, Hoover told the House Appropriations Committee in hearings made public today.

His views were given in reply to a request by Rep. Preston (D-Ga.), author of such a bill in the House. Hoover emphasized they were his own and not necessarily those of the Department of Justice.

Slot machines, Hoover declared, are the basis of organized gambling and, if barred from interstate shipment, "would certainly slow up the operations of these groups and syndicates."

Gambling today is the nest egg of the criminal underworld which operates throughout this country," he asserted.

Wheel on Railroad Mystery Is Solved

WILMINGTON, Jan. 26—(AP)—Judge Harlan H. Johnson of juvenile court, said yesterday a 12-year-old boy was responsible for a steel wheel being on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks here Jan. 19.

He quoted the youngster as saying he had been rolling the wheel when it got away from him, and came to rest on the tracks. Judge Johnson said the boy ran away, thinking the station agent had seen him.

Herman Myers, who resides near the depot, found the wheel and reported it in time to have it removed before a train came along.

Mercury Drops And Rain Starts Again in Night

Nature's Elements On Crazy Spree to Form Hodge-podge

"It was swell while it lasted," Fayette Countians sighed Thursday as they pulled on their rain-coats and stoked up their furnaces again after Thursday's balmy spring-like weather.

Winter started coming back here during the night; the rain started again too.

From a high of 74 degrees Thursday, the mercury in the official government thermometer kept by Coyt Stookey dropped 26 degrees to a reading of 48 by 8 A. M. And, the weather forecaster predicted "much colder" during the next 12 hours.

While the temperature was dropping, the rain was falling. Streams in Fayette County that have been running bank-full—and sometimes spreading out over the bottoms—were rising again Thursday after 21 of an inch of rain fell during the night. The drizzle continued under gray skies Thursday.

The fields and feed lots were mud, deep and slimy. Everywhere the landscape was dotted with ponds of standing water.

This time last year, the mercury climbed to a high of 44 degrees and dropped to a low of 38.

Most of nature's elements appeared on the loose, fashioning a crazy-quilt of contrasts across the country.

Communist Defender Faces Three Charges

SULLIVAN, Ind., Jan. 26—(AP)—Judge Norval K. Harris, former co-chairman of a committee to defend 11 Communist leaders convicted in New York said today he is innocent of three charges filed against him in his own court.

Judge Harris was indicted by a Sullivan circuit court grand jury yesterday on charges of embezzlement, issuing a fraudulent check and forgery.

The 58-year-old judge told the grand jurors who had indicted him:

"I have only to say that I am innocent and a jury of my peers will so agree."

The embezzlement indictment charges Judge Harris last February took $150 paid to the court by a husband for maintenance of his divorced wife.

The check fraud count charged he tried to pay back money with a check on a bank in which he had no account.

The forgery charge alleged he signed another man's name to an application for a birth certificate. (Judge Harris in 1931 served a seven-month term in federal prison on a forgery charge.)

Long Strike Feared At Chrysler Plants

DETROIT, Jan. 26—(AP)—The CIO United Auto workers faced up to a possibly long strike today for the kind of pension plan they want from Chrysler.

Some union sources said the strike, which started at 10 A. M. (EST) yesterday, might last at least a month. It immediately idled 106,000 workers.

State and federal labor mediators, however, expressed hope that bargaining talks could be resumed this week.

Both company and union representatives said they were willing to return any time the mediators arranged a meeting.

At a dead stop was the daily production of 7,000 automobiles by Chrysler, one of the industry's three top producers. Chrysler's major rivals are Ford and General Motors.

Basically the company-union fight was over the form and administration of $100 monthly pensions.

Military Supremacy Can Become Expensive

It is the conclusion of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics that, if the United States is to maintain military supremacy in the air, it is imperative that we soon develop practical, tactically useful warplanes flying faster than the speed of sound. This conclusion is based on the premise that a potentially hostile nation might develop supersound bombers capable of delivering atomic bombs to American targets from distant bases. From the standpoint of either scientific reasoning or ordinary logic, the possibility must be admitted.

The situation surges the endless strain and spiraling cost of military supremacy. Once we have developed the aircraft the NACA says are needed, it will have to be presumed that a potential enemy might develop similar craft, and find a way either to use them against us or defend their own planes from them. It would then be necessary to take some new step to hold supremacy.

We have to keep supremacy in the air and on the seas, under present international circumstances. Without control over those two modes of approach we are a vulnerable nation, and helpless to offer assistance to any friendly nation except our two next-door neighbors. We could not protect our overseas territories nor fulfill our overseas commitments.

It must soon become apparent that neither the United States nor any other great power can spare the resources and energy for an endless race for supremacy in any military field. Scientific progress promises to make the race fantastically expensive. It behooves us to change the international circumstances so as to destroy permanently the need for supreme military force.

Highway Vision

A congressional subcommittee is scheduled in the 1950 session to take another look at a scheme for a transcontinental highway system which has been in the dream stage for more than fifteen years. It is the idea of Thomas E. Steiner, Ohio businessman, for two great coast-to-coast highways and four others spanning the nation north and south.

A few years ago the scheme was called fantastic; critics still say it is unsound. Steiner thinks it would cost twelve billions, and would pay for itself in thirty years on a practical scale of tolls, using no tax money. The label of fantasy will not be applied so freely now, because other great toll highway projects, like the Pennsylvania and Maine turnpikes and the Merritt Parkway, also called fantastic in their day, are proving feasible and sound.

Steiner's plan goes far beyond any long-distance road development which has yet been made. He would separate cars and trucks, with parallel six-lane roads for each. He would use steam heat to keep the roads useful and safe through the cold regions. Both these ideas have been tried on a small scale, and they work. But their use on transcontinental roads staggers the imagination. This vision will delight the traveling motorist, who is bound to wonder how far into the future Steiner has gazed.

It's bad enough to be a black sheep in the family without being made the goat for everything.

On some western radio programs cowboys do more crooning than shooting. It's just another way of boring people.

Some folks could reduce by living within their means.

Too many people worry too much about not knowing how not to worry.

One great trouble with living too fast is that it often leads to having to fast to live.

Belching of Gas Needs Attention

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PEOPLE who are bothered—and who bother others—by the bad habit of belching often think their trouble is due to the formation of gas within the stomach. In medicine the word "never" is seldom accurate but this is, nevertheless, a truly rare situation.

The acid secreted by the stomach helps to keep foods from fermenting and forming gases. Now and then certain people may lack this acid and, in these cases, small amounts of gas may be produced, particularly if there is delay in emptying the stomach.

Cancer of Stomach

The belching of gas which has a bad odor may only now and then be a symptom of a cancer of the stomach; hence, if this symptom occurs in middle-aged or elderly persons, immediate study by a physician must be made.

In the great majority of cases, the gas brought up by belching is only swallowed air. A great deal of air is swallowed when a person eats too rapidly. If an X-ray of the stomach is taken, a bubble of air is seen in the stomach as a general rule. If too much air gets into the stomach, there is an uncomfortable feeling of fullness which is relieved by belching.

Baking Soda

Many persons have found that taking baking soda relieves this feeling of fullness. It does so by forming another gas known as carbon dioxide which in turn, produces the belching.

(Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Some persons are able to belch at will, but this does no good because repeated belching is associated with further swallowing of air and this will only increase the discomfort.

Excessive air swallowing may also occur when too much saliva is present in the mouth. It occurs in excessively nervous people and is also present in disorders affecting the duodenum or first part of the small intestine, such as ulcer or gastritis. It is a common symptom of gallbladder disease. In certain types of heart disease, belching is often present.

Swallowing Air

Sometimes the air swallowing gets to be a habit. In such cases, the belching may start early in the morning and continue throughout the day. This is a habit which can be broken. Keeping the mouth open by putting in it a large object which prevents swallowing will be helpful.

However, whenever repeated belching occurs there is always need for a careful study to make sure that it is not due to some disease of the stomach, bowel, or gallbladder.

I wrote that over an article in the Clarion last week, but I didn't like doing it. After all, the man it was aimed at—Slim Henderson—is a good friend of mine.

Slim came into quite a windfall last month, and bought the old Clarke place. The deed gave him title to all the land—right down to the street. Then Slim started to take up the sidewalk to make his lawn look better.

I felt it wasn't fair to the town and said so in my article. Next morning Slim comes around and wants to know what I mean—getting folks riled against him. I felt ornery myself, and we had quite a set-to over the whole business.

From where I sit, that was foolish. Once we'd cooled off (over lunch and a bottle of beer at Andy's Tavern), Slim decided the sidewalks should stay—for the common good and I promised next time I'd take a good look at the other fellow's point of view before writing any articles about him!

Sailor Has Plan To Free Warship

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 26—(P)—Dallas Scheidler, a former sailor, thinks the U. S. S. Missouri could be freed from the Chesapeake Bay mud flat by employing a method he said he saw used with success in the Pacific during World War II. Scheidler suggests that the navy sink pipes at an angle down the battleship's sides and then fill those pipes with air or steam from the muck. As the bubbles under pressure so that bubbles burst, he claims, the released pressure will loosen the mud and it will be borne away on the current.

Alger Hiss--Symbol of Mad Period

By George E. Sokolsky

Alger Hiss is not an ordinary person. He has had the advantages of a brilliant education at Johns Hopkins and Harvard Universities; He has been clerk to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes; He has served in government in offices of notable responsibility. Only 45 years of age at this tragic moment in his life, he had already achieved such exalted positions as being Franklin D. Roosevelt's expert at Yalta, secretary of the San Francisco conference which wrote the charter for the United Nations; president of the Carnegie Endowment and International Peace, his predecessor in that office being to distinguished a person as the late President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University.

Sokolsky

Few young men can point to so meteoric a career or to such vast influence at so early an age. Yet, this same Alger Hiss has been convicted of being a liar and a spy; of using his high office and extraordinary opportunities to do harm to his country. Although the charge against him was perjury, the untruthfulness was concerned with an act of espionage. As he was convicted of one, he stands convicted of the other.

It was hard to believe when the charges were first hurled at Hiss, but, mind, they were first hurled at him in 1938 and 1939. Yes, the greatest advances that were made in his brilliant career were after Whitaker Chambers had told his story to A. A. Berle, then assistant secretary of state, who repeated them to Dean Acheson and others in the state department.

In fact, the Far Eastern policy came under Alger Hiss's influence after Dr. J. B. Matthews of the Dies committee handed to the Department of Justice the list of members of the Harold Ware communist cell formed to infiltrate our government—a list which included the name of Alger Hiss.

At the time that Alger Hiss and his associates started their operations, this country was not allied in war with Soviet Russia. After a long wait of 16 years, Roosevelt altered the American policy and recognized Soviet Russia, which had agreed not to interfere in our domestic affairs, an agreement immediately broken by the Russians. During the period when Alger Hiss, Whitaker Chambers and Julian Wadleigh were stealing files from the state department, our relations with Soviet Russia were uncertain; during the period when the Dies committee discovered the list of the Harold Ware cell, Soviet Russia was actually in alliance with Nazi Germany, the Hitler-Stalin alliance, which made possible World War II.

Perhaps it was because of this background, that no attempt was made during either Hiss trial to say that his actions were guided by national policy. Yet, the fact is that every man in the Harold Ware cell did become an important figure in the American government, influencing policies which have left a permanent impress on this nation. Perhaps none of them can now be indicted, although they can be held for contempt of a congressional committee or for perjury.

Alger Hiss is a symbol of a mad period in our government. A period during which administrative control had become so loose that major policies were determined at low levels. It was in the Roosevelt new deal that smart boys and girls, young, brash, inexperienced, were imported into the administration, from eastern colleges, with the Harvard Law School contributing an undue share.

Many of these young persons had, at college, joined the communist party; some had gone adventurously underground; others were of the breed of cowardly fellow-travellers, sympathizers with but non-participants in the various subversive movements established in this country by Moscow since 1934. Many of their colleagues are still teaching in our universities, corrupting future generations and a fanatical conviction which not many possess. Yet, the fact remains that no matter what was done to guard our military secrets, including the atom bomb, the Russians were able to get everything we had. It is certain that they could not have had such access to our files and data without the assistance of government officials.

The conviction of Alger Hiss should mean more than the imprisonment of one man. It should mean the publication of all the known and established facts; it should mean a thorough house-cleaning in every government department.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—The new 1950 model of the wage-hour law is, likewise of the new automobiles, pretty much like the old one.

Something new has been added here and there. The product is about the same.

The new law went on the books Wednesday.

To understand the law you must go back to the days of the Roosevelt New Deal. It was passed originally back in 1938 against a background of a tough business depression.

There was a three-fold purpose: 1. To put a floor under wages—a move to prevent a complete collapse of wages in case of another depression.

2. To put penalties on working anybody more than 40 hours a week—so as to spread the available work around, thus giving jobs to more people.

3. To stop employment of children.

Those three objectives are carried over into the new law. Exemptions have been changed to some extent, some broadened, some narrowed, but the three main points are still there.

The floor under wages is higher under the new law. It was 40 cents an hour, of $16 for a 40-hour week. Now it's 75 cents an hour, or $30 for a 40-hour week. Congress decided on this change because of higher living costs.

The overtime penalty is still there. Workers covered by the law must get time and a half pay for hours worked more than 40 in a week.

Now, too, there is a direct penalty for employing children under 16 years of age. Formerly it was simply illegal to ship for 30 days any goods made by minors.

The employer or worker naturally wants to know whether the new law applies to him. The best advice, if there's any doubt, is to consult the wage-hour administration. It has offices in nearly every state.

Some of the law's provisions seem perfectly clear. Others are so complicated the courts will have to clear them up.

In general, the law applies to all employees of firms having interstate commerce or producing for interstate commerce. Still, there are clear-cut exceptions to this.

Government employees are exempt. So are workers in agriculture, domestic servants, seamen and fishermen.

Most retail stores or service establishments are continued exempt. But the law has been changed to exempt more of them.

The old retail exemption said a store was exempt if half of its retail sales are in "intra-state commerce," meaning within the state where the store was located.

But many retailers sold goods in a state which eventually were taken over into another state. The courts held this made such sales a part of interstate, not intra-state, commerce.

Now the law says retail stores are exempt in half of its retail sales are made within the state where the store is located. This means the retailer's exemption won't be lost if goods he sells at retail in a state are later carried over into another state.

There are a lot of changes like that which seem to make it wise for an employer to consult the wage-hour administration, or a lawyer, if he has doubts. Some employers, previously covered, may find they are now exempt.

Or the reverse may be true. Some workers, previously exempt, are now covered. For instance, the minimum wage provisions have been applied to airline and fish cannery workers. They are still exempt from the overtime requirements.

New powers to enforce the law have been given the government. Formerly only employees could sue if they claimed back wages. Now the wage-hour administrator can sue for them, if he has their written consent.

Truck Driver Sent To The Workhouse

Gordon Blanchard, 34, of Drayton Plains, Michigan, who was arrested by police here for driving a truck while he was drunk, and fined $125 by Police Court Justice Richard R. Willis, is now in the Cincinnati workhouse.

He was taken to the workhouse in custody of Police Chief Vaiden Long, Wednesday afternoon.

Blanchard was unable to pay his fine, and Justice Willis ordered him taken to the Cincinnati institution to work out the fine.

He is the first man sentenced to the workhouse by the new police court justice.

Five Hostesses Include Large Number of Guests At Lovely Dinner Bridge

Another beautiful party was added to the social calendar at the Washington Country Club, on Wednesday evening, when Mrs. Edgar Coil, Mrs. Edward L. Bush, Mrs. Albert S. Stemler, Mrs. Loren D. Hynes and Mrs. Robert Terhune made up a charming group of hostesses at a perfectly appointed dinner bridge and included a large number of guests.

Silver and white, with touches of greenery, were used at vantage points in the clever theme carried out by the hostesses, and the entire club lounge was softly lighted with tall white candles in silver candelabra.

The hostesses seated their guests at small tables for the serving of the delicious three course dinner, each having as its central adornment, tall white tapered with garlands of smilax, with small silvery blossoms entwined at the bases and places were found marked with place cards further carrying out the silver and white theme.

In the spirited progressive game which was highly contested during the remainder of the pleasant evening, attractively wrapped awards in the silver and white colors were presented Mrs. Frank Cox who was the holder of high score, Mrs. Lydia Williams, who received second, Mrs. Clinton D. Young, third and Mrs. Eber Coil fourth.

Out-of-town guests included were Mrs. George Watson of Chillicothe, Miss Bernice Brown and Miss Edna Thompson of Greenfield, Mrs. L. P. Howell of Glen Ellyn, Ill., and Mrs. William W. Trovillo of Frankfort.

Jordans Hosts To Members Of 52 Club

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Jordan were host and hostess to the "52 Club" of the South Side Church of Christ.

The club is composed of all of those having perfect attendance for the past year. Twenty nine members attained that goal for 1949.

Preceding the meeting the guests assembled in the basement recreation room for a sumptuous baked ham dinner. The food was served from a long banquet table covered with a white cloth with a yellow border and centered with a bowl of yellow forsythia from the hostess' own garden. Tall white tapered in crystal holders and placed at each end of the table burned throughout the serving of the meal. An open fire added to the comfort of the guests, who found their places with clever and original place cards made by the hostess.

Following the sumptuous repast each member contributed to the evening's entertainment with special musical numbers and readings.

Those sharing in this annual event were Mrs. Kenneth Blair, Robert Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Creamer, Constance and Ronald James Creamer, Mrs. Josephine Batson, Mr. Walter Coulter, Mrs. Thomas Snyder, Mrs. Charles Hooks, Zola Jane Hooks, Mr. Lawrence Horney, Mrs. Dorothy Price, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Puckett, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Taylor and John Jordan.

Milledgeville WSCS Meets

Eighteen members of the Milledgeville WSCS and four guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Harry Hiser on Wednesday afternoon for the regular meeting. In the absence of Mrs. Ralph Minton president Mrs. John Shely conducted the business session and opened with Scripture reading, followed with prayer by Rev. J. N. Strickland. The devotion was built around "Stewardship" with readings on the subject given by Mrs. Hoyt Bock, Mrs. Mae Fichthorn, Mrs. Fly Fergusson, Mrs. Harry Hiser and Mrs. Edith Chamberlain. Mrs. J. N. Strickland read the hymn "The Light of the World" to close the worship period. The usual reports were heard and approved, and plans were discussed for a chicken supper to be held in April. Mrs. Norma Campbell county home demonstration agent and Mrs. Willard Creamer were introduced and gave demonstration on the baking of biscuits, which were served when finished with other tempting refreshments. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Anna East. Mrs. Hiser was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Edith Chamberlain and Mrs. Grant Morgan.

Two Interesting Subjects Are Heard Discussed at Progress Club Meeting

Miss Maude Routson was a charming hostess for the regular meeting of the Progress Club of Jeffersonville.

The president, Mrs. Pearl Wiseman presided over the business session. Mrs. Rowena Graham presented the subject, "Frozen Fun" and said in part, "that some of the most outstanding sports in this country and Canada are skiing, hockey, ice-boating, skating, fishing, skate sailing, curling and tobogganing."

The city of Quebec ranks high in its enthusiasm for winter sports. Young people wait their turn on Quebec's toboggan slide. The run levels out on Dufferin Terrace and ends beside Chateau Frontenac where there is an outdoor skating rink. Curling is an outdoor sport at Quebec's Winter Club. Maple Leaf Trail, the cross country course, covering some 80 miles through the Laurentian Mountains, offers an infinite variety of skating. Millions of outdoor loving Americans are great fans of winter sports.

In Wisconsin the terrain is suitable for tobogganing, snow-shoeing, jumping, cutter riding, sleigh riding, dog-sled mushing and hunting.

Minnesota has her "St. Paul Winter Carnival."

Skiing came to New Mexico just before World War II.

California's most popular skiing spots are the Donner Summit Area, the Sugar Bowl, and Soda Springs.

New Hampshire has some of the finest skiing facilities to be found anywhere.

Vermont colleges rate skiing as a major sport.

Lake Placid, New York, located in the heart of the Adirondacks at the foot of Mount Marcy and Mount McIntyre annually draws visitors who ski and snowshoe.

The white serenity that once enfolded national forests and parks in unbroken blankets of snow has been shattered for keeps, for millions of outdoor loving Americans have hearkened to the call of "Frozen Fun" and are leaving their imprint on these lands and also on mountains of

It is necessary to go along with the universe which as the author says, "has been in business a long time," but there is more to be had of this old world for a very little amount of effort—if only you are willing to search for it. You can have more fun, more friends, more for your reading time, more work accomplished, more health, more for your money, more even for the love you give—if you'll only ask for it. After roll call and dues were taken the girls were given puffed wheat and toothpicks from which they made animals and placed them in a window display at Johnson's Cleaners. Members are requested to bring any article that they might have for the overseas school bag to the next meeting so that this project can be completed. Costs Are Down At Mount Logan TB Sanatorium

Board of Trustees
Holds Reorganization
Meeting Wednesday

It's costing Fayette County and other counties which send their TB patients to the Mt. Logan Sanatorium, less to pay for the keep of patients at that institution.

This was revealed at the annual reorganizational meeting of the Board of Trustees Wednesday at the Court House in Chillicothe.

Roy Thompson, trustee representing Fayette County on the board, said the cost per patient per day in 1949 was $5.93. This figure, he said, was about five cents below the cost in 1948.

Fayette County only has two patients in the institution. Other counties have the following numbers at the institution: Scioto, 29; Ross, 23; Jackson, 12; Highland, 6; Pike, 4; Adams, 1 and Clinton 1. The total number of patients in the institution is 78.

A report made at the meeting showed that total disbursements for the past year were $166,079.99.

Members of the board also picked new officers for the year. Lawrence Fitch of Scioto County, was elected chairman of the board. Mose West of Highland County was picked as vice chairman and William Marsh of Ross County was selected as secretary.

In view of the disastrous fire which swept through a mental hospital in Iowa not long ago and other destructive blazes the board discussed the possibility of setting up an automatic alarm system at the sanatorium.

Under the tentatively proposed plan the automatic alarm would sound in the headquarters of the Chillicothe fire department. Firemen would be summoned to the sanatorium immediately.

Tripping devices would be installed in various places about the sanatorium. When temperatures went beyond a certain point, the alarm would be sounded in the Chillicothe fire department.

Student Nurse Enrollment Is On the Increase

Student nurse enrollment for 1949 set a new peacetime record, it was reported today by Erwin C. Pohlman, superintendent of Grant Hospital, Columbus.

According to figures based on reports of the nation's state-approved hospitals, freshmen nurses numbered 43,612 last year. The previous high was 43,373 for 1948.

Grant Hospital enrolled 55 student nurses for 1949 fall class, compared with 37 for the fall of 1948. This increase of over 50 per cent was one of the biggest in the nation, Pohlman said.

"The profession has set 50,000 as a minimum goal for 1950," Pohlman stated. "At Grant we expect to find places for 60 new students in September. We be-important reasons why graduate nurses are needed in ever-increasing numbers: More people are going to hospitals for care; many hospitals are being expanded; more fields are opening in which nurses are needed.

Radio Fan Mail Touchy Business

Deluge of Letters
Fours over Stars

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK, Jan. 26—(AP)—If the pens of fans who write to their favorite radio shows were suddenly dried up or taken away, the U. S. Post Office Department undoubtedly would breathe a sigh of relief.

But radio performers and sponsors would be mighty sad.

"This is because radio mail is more than a small industry. It's an index to popularity, a sure critical comment on success or failure and a pretty good indication of how many people are listening to their radios."

Arthur Godfrey has 14 people working, just sorting and answering his daily mail. Crooner Vic Damone figures it a poor poor week if he doesn't corral four or five written invitations to wed. Commentator Mary Margaret McBride scribbles her signature on 1,000 notes weekly. Quiz Master of Ceremonies Bert Parks considers it a week lost when the language purists don't Harry him by mail for kicking the English language around.

Answer Bureau

It's Bernard O'Donnell, however, who has turned fan mail into bread and butter. He handles, for a half-dozen big shows, some five million pieces of fan mail yearly, ranging from requests for free booklets to crank letters. He has a "basic staff" of 40 full time employees to make sure every letter gets a nice reply.

O'Donnell does the job on a per-piece fee basis. He signs each letter with his own name and thanks the writers on behalf of the performer to whom the original letter was addressed.

Some of O'Donnell's clients are "Twenty Questions," "Stop The Music," "Juvenile Jury," and "Life Begins at 80." He says only about 25 per cent of his mail has to be answered by letter—lots of the stuff that comes in are requests and contest entries—but that only a small percentage of that 25 per cent can be handled by a form letter.

Most of the mail O'Donnell answers must be taken care of with a specific answer to a specific question.

A great deal of mail comes from shut-ins, who have time on their hands and are apt to be "glued to the radio." Housewives are prolific writers, too, because they are alone at home a good part of the day and come to feel a personal friendship for performers.

O'Donnell, like the performers themselves, agrees that handling fan mail is a touchy business.

"If it's not done right," he says, "you can create a lot of ill will. It's easy enough to turn off a radio set or tune out a picture in television."

Luta Campfire Girls in Meeting

The Luta Campfire Girls, at a meeting Tuesday at the home of their guardian, Mrs. A. H. Finley, voted to have a "make the quarter grow" project.

The group also worked on their scrapbooks and cut out valentines, according to Scribe Sandy Rose.

The meeting opened by singing the campfire laws, after which the reports of the secretary and treasurer were heard and approved.

The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer and the theme song, "Nature Hymn."

The National Geographic Society says the tiny fiercest fish hides in the body cavities of sea slugs to escape its enemies.

The Universe—God's Workshop
The Universe is God's workshop,
His busy hands ne'er rest;
On land and sea, in air and sky,
He plans for man his best.

A thousand secret springs of power,
Respond to His good will;
And from the lowest ocean depths,
Is seen His power and skill.

He touches earth with fruitfulness,
Sends bannered fields of grain;
He makes of earth a granary,
And sends refreshing rains.

He turns black, threatening clouds to gold,
Puts rainbows in the sky,
And fills the canopy of heaven,
With glory ever nigh.

The great cosmos of stars and worlds,
Are tools in His strong hands;
And all the universe responds,
Obeying His commands.

From smallest flower to great Sequoia,
His power sustains all life—
Myriad animate forms
In their conflict and strife.

Locked in deep mystery, profound
Force waits His wise command;
And like a harp the universe
Responds to His deft hand.

His presence fills all realms of space,
His power all worlds sustain;
And all the starry hosts of heaven,
Move as His shining train.

His workshop's filled with glorious craft,
O'er all a heavenly light;
Sunset streamers and golden bars,
Salute the day, and hail the night.

One League Game Set As Tough Teams Visit

The referee's opening whistle Friday night will find the county's cage teams in position against tough opposition.

With just one league game scheduled, Madison Mills at Good Hope, the other bouts will find New Holland invading Jeffersonville and Frankfort at Bloomingburg.

The Wayne Mad Anthony's, leading the loop with a 3-1 record, stand an excellent chance of solidifying their position in

Lions League Race Is Getting Tighter

By winning two out of three from the WCH Tailtwisters, the WCH Claws closed the gap on the pace setting WCH Tamers in Wednesday night's Lions League bowling at Bowland.

The Tamers won their first game but dropped the next two to the Jamestown Tamers.

In both matches the scores were of the run-of-mine variety. Powers of the Jamestown outfit was high with 527.

The third place WCH Cubs banged themselves right up into the thick of the race by making a clean sweep of their match with the Bloomingburg Tailtwisters.

The Bloomingburg Claws won the first and last game of their match with the Jamestown Cubs to emerge from the cellar. The defeat left the Cubs in the dungeon all alone.

Kirk Tractorettes Beat Beauticians

Kirk Tractorettes stretched their lead in the Ladies League when they won the first two games of their match with the second place Beauticians in Wednesday night's round of matches at Bowland.

After taking the opener with ease, the Tractorettes eked out a 29-pin victory in the second game and then lost the last one by 18 pins in a nip and tuck tussle.

Paulin's girls from Mt. Sterling closed in on the leaders and tightened their grip on the No. 3 spot with a clean sweep of their match with the Helfrich Markettes.

The King-Kashers took two out of three from the Wade Shos and the NCR girls forfeited to the Mac Toolers.

Benefit Dance Recital Draws Capacity Crowd

Pupils of Johnny
Godfrey Net $200
For Eastside PTA

The big benefit dance recital before a capacity crowd at the WHS auditorium Wednesday night brought the Eastside School Parent-Teachers Association about $200 in proceeds.

The pupils of the Johnny Godfrey School of Dancing entertained the large turnout with a variety of numbers and the quick applause showed how much they were appreciated.

The proceeds from the show will go into the PTA's fund for the new ditto machine for the school, in addition to radios for each of the eight rooms at Eastside.

A total of 42 numbers was presented to the gathering, with Jeanne Miller accompanying on the piano.

Credit Goes to Many

The success of the dance recital was credited to the many people who put in the long hours of preparation and carrying out of the affair, as well as the entertainers who performed so well at certain time.

Teachers of Eastside School distributed programs and the following men served as ushers and took up tickets: Paul Mohr, Otis Core, Joe Campbell, Clifford Scott, Herb Plymire, Joe Peters and Raymond Godfrey. Charles Hise sold tickets at the boxoffice and Walter Gorman principal of Central School, took up tickets and sold candy.

The baskets of assorted flowers that flanked the stage were donated by Anders Greenhouse.

The performers featured in the recital were: Donna Burke, Betty Ellen Clarke, Janie Davis, Marty and Patsy Woodard, Diana Gentry, Ronald Burnett, Judith McFadden, Gary Rieff, Marvin Milledale and Bob Graves. More Than 200 At Methodist Church Meeting

Tribute is Paid
Here to Those Who Helped with Project

Some 200 members of the congregation of the Grace Methodist Church were on hand Wednesday night for the first big fellowship meeting ever held in the newly completed Fellowship Hall in the basement of the Grace Church here.

The meeting, featuring a covered dish dinner, was a "thank you" affair to pay tribute to those who made the Fellowship Hall and the Youth Center possible.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner, bishop of the Ohio area Methodist churches, sent a letter praising those who helped with the extensive improvements to the church.

Two former pastors of the Grace Church, Rev. Karl Alexander, who was here from 1919 to 1924, and Rev. A. K. Wilson, who was here from 1932 to 1938, joined in paying tribute to those who brought the improvements to a reality.

Rev. Alexander said the work of a church was bigger than a building. It's the members who count, he stated. Rev. Wilson emphasized the necessity of loyalty among members—a loyalty greater than that required in anything else.

Rev. Allan W. Caley, pastor of the Grace Church, thanked all those who contributed either time or effort to the church building project. He especially paid tribute to Willard Wilson as a sort of "1 year man" who stayed on the job to the end.

A special guest was Henry DuBois of Dayton contractor for the job.

Plans have been made to hold monthly fellowship meetings in Fellowship Hall, according to Rev. Caley. He said outstanding speakers will be scheduled for the meetings.

The Fellowship Hall, Youth Center, automatic heating system, other interior improvements and exterior work cost almost $40,000. The improvements were dedicated.

Nurses' Aid Training Here Starts Feb. 1

Applicants Asked To Call Miss Evans To Enter Program

A nurses' aid training program for those who may be accepted as paid nurses' aids in the Fayette County Memorial Hospital when it opens for occupancy, is to be started here on February 1.

Miss Christine Evans, hospital administrator, announces that all women who are interested in participating in this 60 hour course with a view to being engaged at the hospital, should call her to make application. She can be reached during business hours at the temporary hospital office at the Ohio Water Service Company room, Phone 27521.

Positions as nurses' aid are on a scheduled hourly wage and are permanent.

The training program will be under Miss Evans' direction with Mrs. Caroline Chaper, a registered nurse, in charge.

It will be carried on at Memorial Hall, Court Street, second floor, with beds and other necessary equipment installed for practical instruction.

It is understood, according to hospital officials, that a number of women in the county are interested in taking up this work and for this reason Miss Evans urges that applications be filed with her at once.

Truck, Two Cars in Collision Near Here

Two cars and a semi-truck and trailer were involved in a wreck about 8 o'clock Thursday morning in a blinding rain south of Madison Mills on the CCC Highway.

Mitchell Zaret of Cincinnati and two occupants of his car were treated in Mt. Sterling then rushed to Mt. Carmel Hospital. The extent of their injuries is unknown.

The accident occurred, according to J. H. Wyatt, state patrolman, when a car driven by Zaret collided with a semi-truck, driven by Ray J. Graham, 25, of Columbus, then struck a car driven by Charles Simpson, 27, of 204 Oakland Avenue.

Zaret's car knocked the wheels off the truck then plunged into a ditch after striking Simpson's car. The Zaret car was completely demolished and the Simpson car badly damaged on its left side.

Traffic along the busy highway was interrupted for about two hours and a half by the truck and trailer which was left on the thoroughfare.

Neither Simpson or Graham were injured in the collision.
